Mental Health and Wellbeing

Mental wellbeing can be simply described as feeling good and functioning well.

Having good mental health enables you to play a fulfilling part in family life, work and friendships.

Positive mental health and wellbeing is also linked to good physical health, increased life expectancy, improved quality of life, better educational achievement and improved employment prospects.

Everyone has times when they feel down or stressed. Most of the time these feelings pass, but sometimes they can escalate into more serious problems that could impact on your life and mental health.

Each year 1 in 4 people will experience a mental health issue and the most common mental health conditions are anxiety and depression.

Emotional Health and Wellbeing

Emotional health, or mental wellbeing, is about how you're feeling and how well you can cope with your day-to-day life.

Many people with good emotional and mental health are able to:

- be confident in themselves
- engage and interact with the world around them
- manage stress and change
- express their emotions
- play a positive role in their home and work life.

Many things can affect your mental wellbeing, including unemployment, loneliness, physical illness, poor housing, poverty, discrimination, trauma, violence etc.

Evidence suggests that there are five steps you can take to improve your emotional and mental health:

- Connect - spend time developing and nurturing relationships with friends, family, neighbours and colleagues. Befriending services are available that can help support you if you are feeling lonely and isolated. You can find out more on our website at www.derbyshire.gov.uk/befriendingservice
- Be active - try to find an activity that you enjoy, and that keeps you active, such as walking, swimming, cycling or playing football. Evidence shows that an improvement in your physical health can help improve your mental health. You can find out more about being active on our website at www.derbyshire.gov.uk/healthylifestyles
- Keep learning - learning new skills can boost confidence and give you a sense of achievement. You can find information about courses for adults on our Adult Community Education page. You can find out more on our Adult Community Education webpage at www.derbyshire.gov.uk/adulteducation
- Give to others - helping others, saying thank you, or giving someone a smile can help to improve your self-esteem and improve your emotional health. Volunteering is a way to help in your community, build up new social networks, and giving you experience if you're looking for a job. There is more information about volunteering on our website: www.derbyshire.gov.uk/volunteerpassport

- Take notice - being more aware of the present moment, the world around you and your own feelings and thoughts, can help you to positively change how you feel about life.

Self-Help

There are things that you can do to help yourself manage and recover from mental ill health. This can include anything from leading a healthier lifestyle, to joining self-help groups, working through self-help books and online courses. Some of these are recommended by health professionals to treat and improve mental ill health.

The following websites provide a list of self help groups in Derbyshire.

Services and Support

You should make an appointment to see your GP if you are worried about your mental health or that of someone close to you.

Your GP will assess your circumstances and offer appropriate advice or treatment. They can also refer you to a psychological therapy service or a specialist mental health service for further advice or treatment.

Your GP may refer you to a self-help group or talking therapies, such as counselling or Cognitive Behavioural Therapy. You can also self-refer into these types of therapy.

Recovery and Peer Support Service

Recovery is about helping people to achieve their own goals and aspirations. The new Recovery and Peer Support Service offers opportunities for people to learn more about their own mental health condition and ways to manage these, meet new friends, enjoy social activities and get help with issues such as housing, benefits and employment issues.

The service also offers training to enable people to support each other in their recovery journey and benefit from other people's experiences.

The service is provided by Rethink Mental Illness, Derbyshire Federation for Mental Health and P3 (charity).

Social Care Enablement Support

If you're struggling to cope with day-to-day life due to your mental health then our Adult Care workers may be able to help you. They can help with practical things like welfare benefits, housing, employment, accessing community activities and assisting you to overcome any difficulties you may be experiencing that are impacting on your day-to-day life.

Call Derbyshire is the first point of contact for most enquiries.

Tel: 01629 533190

email: contactcentre@derbyshire.gov.uk

What to do in a Crisis

For immediate, life-threatening emergencies, call 999

If you've had thoughts of self-harming or are feeling suicidal, contact someone immediately such as a friend, relative or someone you can trust.

If you feel like you're unable to manage your symptoms and feel unsafe, you should contact your GP or NHS 111 if out-of-hours.

If you, or someone you care about, is experiencing mental ill health and is in a crisis or emergency situation, the following organisations can help:

- Your GP - if possible your first point of contact should be your GP, as they will know your medical history and will decide the best action to take.
- If a health or social care professional (your care co-ordinator or key worker) has given you a specific phone number to call when you are concerned about your condition, continue to use that number.
- Adult Care - during office hours Call Derbyshire on 01629 533190 - the call centre is open between 8am to 8pm on Monday to Friday, and 9:30am to 4:30pm on Saturday to provide you with a speedy and direct response.
- Adult Care Out of Hours - in an emergency outside of normal office hours, call the Emergency Duty Team on 01629 532600.

For less urgent health needs, contact your GP or local pharmacist in the usual way.

You could also get help from:

Focusline is a confidential telephone helpline service which offers emotional support, information and signposting for people with mental ill health living in Derbyshire. This service is available to any adult who has a mental health problem, carers and professional agencies.

Tel: 0800 027 2127 - Text: 07537404695 - Open 5pm to 1am, 7 days a week

The Samaritans provide a non-judgmental emotional support for people who are experiencing feelings of distress, despair or suicidal thoughts.
Tel: 116 123 - 24 hours a day.

Caring for someone with Mental Ill Health

The Carers in Derbyshire website is both a starting point and a one-stop-shop for carers who need information and advice about the resources available in Derbyshire to support them. The site deals with topics such as carers rights, carer assessments, emergency planning and welfare rights. There is also a searchable directory of local services for carers including:

- Carer support groups
- Social activities and groups
- Drop-in services
- Respite and sitting services
- Advice lines and online forums.

Visit the site at: www.carersinderbyshire.org.uk

If you are caring for someone and feel you need some support, Derbyshire Carers Association offer information, advice, 1-1 support and local carer support groups.

Visit: www.derbyshirecarers.co.uk

Tel: 01773 833833

email: info@derbyshirecarers.co.uk

You can also have a carers assessment which will look at how your caring role is impacting on your own health and wellbeing. Help and support may be provided to help you in your caring role. Find out more at: www.carersinderbyshire.org.uk/carers-assessment

Independent Community Advocacy

Independent Community Advocacy means getting support from another person to help you express your views and wishes and help to ensure your voice is heard. Someone who helps in this way is called an advocate.

If you're having difficulties using public services and you need help voicing what you want to say or being listened to, you can get support from the Independent Community Advocacy Service. This could include help with:

- going to a job centre
- accessing your GP
- supporting someone in care.

Tel: 01332 623732

Visit: www.derbyshireindependentcommunityadvocacy.org.uk

email: enquiries@derbyshireindependentcommunityadvocacy.org.uk

Independent Specialist Advocacy

If you or someone you know is in hospital as an informal patient or has been detained under the Mental Health Act 1983, then there is a specialist Independent Mental Health Advocacy service available to provide support in understanding your legal rights and being heard in relation to your care and treatment.

If someone lacks capacity to make their own decisions or has no one to represent their views, then an Independent Mental Capacity Advocate can represent the person's views and wishes in relation to decisions about:

- serious medical treatment
- changes in accommodation
- safeguarding processes.

Both of these services are provided by Derbyshire MIND

Tel: 01332 623732

Visit: www.derbyshiremind.org.uk
