1. Enforcement Action

Site	Breach	Action Taken	Comment
Vital Earth Compost Plant, Ashbourne. 3.2.85	Unauthorised use of land for storage and processing of composted material.	Enforcement Notice issued 15 September 2010, requiring removal of all material and plant/machinery by 1 September 2012 and full remediation of land by December 2012, as varied on appeal.	Site inspection on 4 September 2012 noted that the removal of material from the site was substantially completed but two stockpiles of compost material remained and processing of this material was continuing. The operator has referred to a number of issues as delaying compliance, including weather, its need for permits from the Environment Agency and restrictions on vehicle movements taking material to the receiving site. The company stated that it required a further 4-6 weeks from the compliance date to complete the removal of the material. This was considered appropriate to allow an extension of 6 weeks for completion of the works before taking further action to initiate prosecution proceedings at this stage. A further site inspection was carried out in October 2012 and the plant and compost material had been removed. Monitoring continuing. Under the terms of the notice, final restoration works to allow the resumption of agricultural operations were required to be complete by December 2012. Weather conditions have not allowed this and final restoration will be carried out when weather and ground conditions allow. Site inspection carried out 22 May 2013. Final clearance and cultivation to be carried out.

Discussion of situation and options with landowner. Liaison with District Council. EA has served statutory notice for the removal of waste deposited in contravention of Environmental Permit for the site. A Third party is now looking to acquire the site and has stated the intention to remove the external waste being stockpiled from the site. Some progress in clearing the site has been made but further progress delayed awaiting the completion of the sale of the site to the new operator. An Action Plan detailing proposals to bring the site into compliance has been requested. Action plan remains outstanding. There are long-standing concerns relating to the quarry which the conditions attached to the current planning permission have sought to limit and mitigate. Site inspection monitoring identified breach of Enforcement Notice. There appears to be little, if any, activity currently associated with the quarry and the working beyond permitted areas appears to have ceased for the time being. The ownership of the quarry has recently changed. The new owner has been met on site and has expressed a willingness to cooperate with the County Council to take forward this and other outstanding matters to the County Council's satisfaction.
