Summary

The site is owned by Derby City Council. It is currently leased to a third party. The lease restricts the use of the site and so negotiations are ongoing to allow the covenant to be removed.

The site has been cleared and is ready to develop. It is around 1km from the nearest neighbourhood centre and does have reasonable access to public transport although this could be better. It sits generally within a residential area of the city and is therefore classed as a generally suitable residential development site.

There are no known constraints with regards to accessibility, contamination or other physical/environmental constraints.

The site is suitable, available and could be developed for around 10 dwellings. There is a high level of developer interest.

It is felt that this is a good development opportunity which could happen quite quickly but it can not be included as deliverable until there is more certainty. It is therefore considered developable but with a likelihood that it will come forward sooner rather than later.
