Safety and other information

We recommend that while the boat is in use, you keep on the boat an adequate first aid kit in good condition.

It is your responsibility to help make your use of the Chesterfield Canal as safe as possible. The Chesterfield Canal is potentially dangerous. The waterway and structures that support navigation were mostly designed and built for industrial use two hundred years ago. As a result, there are inherent risks for those that use them. The safety of our users and staff is of paramount importance to us and we do our best to make the system as safe as possible.

For the safety of all those who use the waterways and those who work on or near them it is essential that you and your crew:

- Are aware of the possible dangers
- Act in a way which minimises the risk of harm to yourselves and others.

- There may also be other exceptional circumstances when navigation will not be possible. We reserve the right to suspend Licences in such circumstances.

5. Fees, payment and rebates

Levels of fees are determined by DCC and are reviewed periodically. Payment of fees must be made on application. Only successful applications will attract fees, and therefore, fees paid for unsuccessful applications will be returned or refunded. A licence will not be issued unless the appropriate fee has been paid. Concessionary rates are available for people with disabilities, students, old age pensioners and people who are unemployed (see CC16). The expiry date of the licence will be either the expiry date requested by you or the expiry date of the insurance policy or safety certificate, whichever shall occur earlier.

Applications for rebates will be determined in the light of individual circumstances and grants of rebates will be at our discretion. Application forms for rebates (CC10) can be obtained from Tapton Lock Visitor Centre, please also ask staff for explanatory notes on rebates (CC11).

6. Changes of details, lost licences and special conditions

You must notify us of any changes to your name or address. If you lose your licence we will issue you a copy. We may charge you an administrative fee to cover our costs. We reserve the right to issue any licences subject to extra conditions that we think are reasonable. We will tell you what these conditions are before we issue the licence.

7. How the licence may end and what happens then

If we think you have broken any of these Licence Conditions, we will write and tell you:

- How we think you have broken these conditions
- How we think you can put things right and tell you how long you have to do this.

If you do not put things right within the time allowed, the licence will end and you must not put the boat on our waterway. Once the licence has ended, unless you re-licence the boat, you must not put the boat on our waterway. If you do, we have the powers to remove the boat ourselves and to charge you for the costs we incur in doing this.

We reserve the right to refuse to issue you with any licence. You have no right under any conditions to the renewal of a licence. We will not unreasonably refuse a new licence. However, if we do refuse to issue you with a licence we will tell you why.
